THE NAVAL REVIEW.

ALEXANDRIA, September 29.—The channel squadron has sailed for Malta. The naval brigade has gone to Cairo to attend the military review on Saturday.

THOROUGHLY SUBDUED.

CAIRO, September 29.—The authorities consider the country generally so rapidly returning to its normal condition that further display of force in the province is unnecessary.

TROOPS TO REMAIN.

LONDON, September 29.—The Times says it has been decided to retain for the present 12,000 men in Egypt, to carry on and consolidate the work for which the suppression of Arabi Pasha does little more than clear the way.

THE FIRE EXTINGUISHED.

CAIRO, September 29.—The explosions at the railway station yesterday continued at brief intervals for over three hours. The passenger station was saved, but all freight sheds, containing ten days' provision for the army and about two hundred trucks of ammunition, were destroyed. Five men were killed and twenty wounded. The fire was of incendiary origin. Subsequent to the first explosion two Arabs were seized in the act of firing trucks. A third escaped. Troops patrolled the streets last night.

EGYPTIAN INCENDIARIES.

CAIRO, September 29.—During the fire at the railway station two men with torches were arrested while endeavoring to fire the adjacent quarter of the town.

INVESTIGATING THE EXPLOSION.

LONDON, September 29.—The government telegraphed Cairo ordering an investigation into the explosion and promptly report the result. The transport Carthage arrived at Port Said with eleven officers and one hundred and one men, landed at Tel El Kebir. Five of the wounded died on the voyage.

FIRE BUGS.

CAIRO, September 29.—Shortly after the explosion here yesterday, an Arab was caught throwing a can of petroleum into the burning wagon. Another was discovered lighting a fire under a train and a third was arrested for inciting natives to massacre.

THE LOSS.

CAIRO, September 29.—It is estimated that fifteen days' supplies for twenty-five thousand men were destroyed in the fire caused by the explosion.

The court of inquiry ordered by the government is now sitting.

TYROLEAN FLOODS.

LONDON, September 29.—Floods in Tyrol have reduced hundreds of the wealthy land owners to poverty. The laboring classes are in terrible distress. The approach of winter greatly aggravates the situation.

RELEASED.

DUBLIN, September 29.—All suspects in custody have been released in view of the expiration to-morrow of the term of the coercive act.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS.

VIENNA, September 29.—Advices from Pressburg report anti-Jewish riots there. The mob broke the windows of many houses occupied by the Jews. The military finally restored order, after making forty arrests. The rioters in Pressburg declared that what they had done was merely a prelude to what was coming. The shops and warehouses of the Jews were forced open and plundered. The rioters offered the military obstinate resistance, some of them seizing the soldiers' bayonets with their hands. Similar excesses were committed in the neighboring town of Blumenthal. Thirty persons were arrested. Several hundred Jews have fled to Vienna.

MURDER WITHOUT MERCY.

DUBLIN, September 29.—The brother of Walsh, who was hanged at Galway, was found guilty as accessory to the murder of Constable Kavanagh at Letterfrack. The jury recommended Walsh to mercy because there was no positive evidence, they said, that he actually fired the shot which caused Constable Kavanagh's death. The prisoner is very violent, and shouted loudly that the witnesses had given false evidence. He was sentenced to be hanged October 26. Judge Lawson said he would forward the jury's recommendation to the proper quarter, but he could hold out no hope to the prisoner that the recommendation would be favorably acted upon. Walsh again became excited and cried out that justice would yet overtake his false accusers.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.

ERIE, Oct., September 29.—At 5:30 this evening the dummy car, used in conveying passengers over the International bridge between here and Black Rock, a suburb of Buffalo, fell through the open draw into the Niagara river, 25 feet. Engineer Bohm and Edwin Hershey, foreman of the bridge, were killed; Mrs. Parmelee, of Black Rock, Capt. Haggart, dummy conductor, and a lady, name unknown, were seriously injured.

It seems that the steamer Falcon was coming up and the draw in the bridge was opened for her to pass. At the same time the dummy engine used to cross the bridge was making the last trip for the night. For some cause the engine did not perceive the draw open, and the dummy plunged into the river. Malcolm Colebaugh, bridge superintendent, was standing on the platform of the car, and jumped to the bridge as the car went down. The water is fully forty feet deep where the car went down.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.

CHICAGO, September 29.—An opinion of interest and importance to railroads, shippers, business men, and indeed all classes of the community, was rendered yesterday in the Illinois supreme court, in the case involving the question of the power of the legislature to regulate the rates charged by railroads for freight carried to points outside of Illinois, and whether an act prohibiting unjust discrimination in such rates was not in violation of the constitution of the United States. The law in question was one wherein a 66 per cent. larger rate was charged on a haul from Gilman to New York than on a haul from Peoria to New York though the distance from Peoria was greater by eighty-six miles, and it is held by the court that the charge was unjust, excessive, extortionate and unlawful, and in effect the court upholds the authority of the railroad warehouse commissioners to regulate freight charges from points in Illinois to points outside the state.

CALIFORNIA PROHIBITIONISTS.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 29.—The state prohibition convention met here yesterday. H. McDaniel, San Francisco, lieutenant governor, William Sims, Yolo county.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.

The second heat was a repetition of the first, with Duster running. In the third heat, Claude R. led to the three-quarter pole at a thirty second gait; her driver pulled up for the others. Old Political Parties Managed in the Interest of the Monopolists.

And the People's Only Hope of Relief Lies in the Ballot.

Address of Capt. J. E. Stickle Before the Anti-Monopoly Convention at Hastings, Sept. 27.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Convention:

If any man or friend who has called me out to-day expects anything very eloquent, or very witty, or very profound, he is doomed to disappointment. I suppose I am not unlike the majority of those composing this convention—a much better listener than talker, and the whole business of speech making is entirely out of my line. I belong to that class of orators not inappropriately described by the newspapers and others as buccle.

But whether buccle or metropolitan some of us have the faculty of saying what we think and meaning just precisely what we say. If I can be considered to have a mission standing here to-day it is to try to demonstrate to you that there is no political issue subsisting between the great political parties and that anti-monopoly should be the shibboleth sounded by every son of Adam in this broad land who earns his bread by honest toil. In the campaign down in Thayer county last fall, these gentlemen who were most urgent in support of the republican ticket, threw out a fearful indictment against those republicans who came out and voted the anti-monopoly ticket. There were three charges: First, that we were renegades and scoundrels; second, consorts with democrats; third, declared co-conspirators with greenbackers. Well, to all of these indictments, severally and collectively,
